Good with dogs   Good with kids   Up-to-date

Little Maple was found running on Maple Street. She was trying to look like she knew where she was going, but our shelter staff could tell she was lost. So, they managed to catch her and named her Maple, in honor of autumn coming upon us and also the street she was on.

Maple is just as sweet as they come too. She's a small dog, great size for an apartment as well as a house. She's young, so she still has some highly playful and energetic days ahead of her. She'll need an owner who has time to house train her and give her exercise and attention. She gets along with all the dogs in the shelter and enjoys running after tossed balls and frisbees.

All of that work will pay off, Maple's love will be like a tree that grows and grows.
