Margarita is a gorgeous, sweet, calm, and relaxed mama who took wonderful care of her six wild kittens. She loves to snuggle on the couch and watch movies (nature documentaries are her favorite) and will chirp and sing for her breakfast in the morning (or any time she wants your attention, really) while she stares at you with her big green eyes. Margarita loves to be brushed until her beautiful calico coat is shiny, and she even rolls over for belly rubs. She warms up to strangers quickly, especially if they're generous with the chin scratches. She is well-mannered with perfect litter box habits, and has never jumped onto counters or gotten into trouble in her foster home - she prefers to lounge on the couch or in the sunshine and chirp at her humans until they give her snuggles or (better yet) dinner. Margarita would be wonderful in a variety of homes -- she would be great for someone who wants an affectionate, low-maintenance companion for lots of leisurely couch snuggles, and would likely do just as well in a home with kids to give her attention and cuddles.
